

HEMANTH NAIDU

Hemanth Naidu Taragambadi Ambarish is a fashion and commercial photographer whose work seamlessly merges technical mastery with creative vision. Currently pursuing an MA in Commercial Photography at the London College of Communication (UAL), Hemanth applies his engineering-trained mind to craft striking imagery for global brands and campaigns.

Over the past decade, Hemanth has led high-impact studio and location shoots—from shaping flagship advertising for Constella in India to delivering immersive workshops at Summit Camp in Pennsylvania. His diverse portfolio spans fashion, editorial, commercial and lifestyle photography, each project distinguished by meticulous lighting, dynamic composition, and authentic storytelling.
